

Marianas Memorial

The Marianas Memorial is dedicated in memory of indigenous Chamorros and Carolinians of the Northern Marianas who died during World War II.

Caught in a war not of their making, the people of Northern Marianas, like many civilians throughout the Pacific, became victims of war. The Marianas Memorial honors Chamorros and Carolinians who lost their lives as a result of war-related causes from the beginning of American aerial bombardment in Saipan on June 11, 1944, to the closure of civilian camps on July 4, 1946.

In 2003 the Marianas Memorial Sub-Committee, under the American Memorial Park Visitor Center Content Review Committee, undertook the task of researching, compiling and verifying names of all Marianas war dead for inclusion on the Memorial. The comprehensive list of names was achieved after extensive review of existing lists compiled by the Department of War Claims, the CNMI Office of the Washington Representative, the Diocese of Chalan Kanoa, various federal agencies, and the CNMI Historic Preservation Office.

The resulting list of names was then published for comment via local and regional newspapers, internet, and direct mail to Chamorro and Carolinian families living in the U.S. mainland. Upon the request and written testimony of the oldest surviving next-of-kin of the deceased, additions, spelling corrections, and omissions were incorporated into the final listing, which was certified by the Government of the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands in 2004.

The names of recorded death casualties are engraved on ten granite panels at the Memorial. For many, the Marianas Memorial also symbolizes the only tombstone for Chamorros and Carolinians who lost their lives during the war and whose final resting place is not known.

In February 2005 the American Memorial Park will open its doors to a new Visitors Center. This center will include a museum and a Reflection of Loss exhibit hall with a direct view of both the new Marianas Memorial and the existing Court of Honor, memorializing U.S. service members killed in the Marianas Campaign of World War II.
